The PIO did not appear in the earlier 2 hearings on 23.04.2025 and 21.05.2025. The appellant appeared on both the dates. However, in the hearing on 21.05.2025 one Shri Santosh Ram, Divisional Accountant appeared online on behalf of the PIO who submitted that he will not be able to answer any clarification, if asked for during the course of hearing. The hearing of the appeal was, hence, adjourned to 06.06.202 with direction to the PIO to be present in person with the requested documents/information and to explain the reasons for denial, if any, of the documents.

Meanwhile the Appellant, Shri Tamchi Gungte, vide letter dated 30.05.2025, addressed to this Commission, informed that the PIO had furnished the requested information(s) on 27.05.2025 but the information(s) are either incomplete / or not furnished as shown below:

In the hearing on 06.06.2025, the appellant was present in person but the PIO was again represented by Shri Santosh Ram, Divisional Accountant appeared as APIO online.

During the course of hearing the appellant reiterated his demand for the left out documents while the APIO submitted that some of the requested documents/information are either related to commercial confidence or personal information of the third party which are exempted under section 8(1)(d) and (j) of the RTI Act.

The appellant, however, responded by saying that he did not request for any information relating to any commercial confidence or trade secrets of the tender participants but has asked for the PRCs submitted by them to prove their domicile status as required under the A.P District Based Entrepreneurs and Professionals (Incentive, Development and Promotion) Rules, 2015. The appellant also complained that although the NIT was uploaded in the website but the notice of the same published in news paper was not furnished.

This Commission, on perusal of the details of left out documents/information as above and upon hearing the parties, noticed that non-disclosure of the those remaining documents, particularly, the PRC (SI.No.2) and the Documents submitted for technical bid (SI.No.11) on the ground that these are exempted under section 8(1)(d) and (j) was not correct inasmuch as the PRC can not be termed as an information having a character of commercial confidence or trade secrets. Further, the disclosure of the documents submitted by the tender participants for technical bid, some of which, even though, might be personal information, can not be denied if the disclosure has a relationship to public activity or interest in terms of the provisions contained in the exemption clause(j) itself. This Commission further noticed that the disclosure of the documents as sought for in the instant case, indeed, has relationship with an important public activity or interest i.e the construction of public road and in view thereof, the requested documents ought to be furnished to the appellant.

In the premises as above, the PIO was directed to provide the aforementioned left out documents/information to the appellant within 4(four) weeks from 06.06.2025 and in any case before 09.07.2025 and appeal was accordingly listed again on 09.07.2025.

Today on 09.07.2025, the PIO attended through VC who informed that the left out information were furnished to the appellant a week ago and the appellant who is present in person also acknowledged the receipt of the documents with which he is satisfied.

In the premises above, this appeal stands disposed of and closed.
